Sees A Plot

(Editor, The News)

The recent fighting in Panama is proof that the Conservative foreign policy of the Johnson administration is nothing but folly. Johnson, like Harry Goldwater, is a man who cannot understand the Latin American situation. Johnson's policies will leave all of Latin America in the hands of the rightists. The attack on the liberal government in Panama by the Johnson-directed CIA is nothing but a trick to replace it with a rightist junta.

(Editor's note: The record shows the attack was launched by Panamanians and that Castro sympathizers added to the violence.)
